NEWS FROM EUROPE.

The Coronation the Absorbing Topic of Europe—The Vatican and the Irish—Fighting in South Africa.

LONDON, May 22.—A dispatch to-day from Berlin says: A report, which is not yet confirmed, comes from St. Petersburg that previous to the departure of the Emperor for Moscow an explosion occurred under the washstand and in the fireplace in his dressing-room, but nobody was injured, the Emperor and Empress being in the dining-room at the time.

Moscow, May 22.—The decorations of the streets and houses have nearly been completed. On all sides are pictures of the Imperial family, and words of salutation in letters of every size, in Slav or Russian, encircle garlands surrounded by colored lamps. The decoration of bunting and flags is profuse. The palace of the Governor of Moscow is covered with garlands and sweet fir leaves festooned from the windows to the ground. In the center is a monogram of the initials "A. M." ten feet high, in rose blossoms. All the first hotels and public edifices have special decorations.

The foreign delegations have already begun to arrive, and the city is filling rapidly with visitors. The United States will be represented by Mr. Hunt, the regular Minister, Colonel Hoffman, Secretary, and Commodore Baldwin, of the United States Navy, with his personal staff, from the flagship Lancaster.

England.

LONDON, May 22.—The Government is anxious to have it understood that no arrangement of any kind was made with the prisoners who have pleaded guilty, or who have acted as informers.

Ireland.

DUBLIN, May 22.—Mr. Sexton, speaking at a meeting to-day in favor of the Parnell fund, urged the avoidance of the use of language by representatives of the Irish party which would prevent or be likely to postpone an honorable reconciliation of the Irish people with the Vatican. The propaganda at Rome has sent a confidential circular to the Irish clergy in answer to their request for advice confirming the Pope's letter, indorsing his ideas and counseling implicit obedience.

DUBLIN, May 22.—The rotunda ward meeting last night was a rousing one. Every mention of the name of Parnell and Bishop Crooke was greeted with loud applause. The tone of the meeting was respectful toward the spiritual authority of the church, but deeply resenting the interference of any foreigner in the religious, civil or political affairs of Ireland.

The sum of £100 was collected on the platform. The Mayor was requested to call a meeting of the corporation to protest against the circular from the Vatican. The feeling over the Pope's mandati is daily becoming more intense.

France.

PARIS, May 22.—Cardinal Lavigne, Archbishop of Algiers, has been authorized by the Pope to call the attention of the French Government to the difficulty the Pope has in preventing a tension between the Vatican and France from becoming an open rupture, and to show it how impatiently the enemies of the Republic await such a result. The Government made an amicable reply to the Cardinal's communication.

The Anarchist, Morphy, having returned here after being expelled, was rearrested. He had intended to found an Anarchist journal.

Italy.

ROME, May 22.—It is now understood that the vote of confidence in the policy of the Cabinet was not satisfactory to M. De Pretis, and he tendered King Humbert the resignation of the whole Cabinet. This the King refused, but only dropped the names of M. J. Zanardelli, Minister of Justice, Arts and Ecclesiasticals, and M. A. Baccarini, Minister of Public Works.

LONDON, May 22.—Advices from South Africa announce fresh disturbances between the Boers and Swazis, several engagements having been had with various results.

The Finest Fighters in the World.

KANSAS CITY, May 22.—A correspondent writing to the Journal, says the reason for the non-suppression of the Apaches is not the interference of the Interior Department, but simply and solely fear. He says the American Arabs are the finest fighters the world ever saw. They campaign in a badly broken-up country which is inaccessible to ordinary troops. The correspondent gives some particulars showing how the Apaches amuse themselves. A band of fifty were being pursued by five times their number of Mexican troops. The Apaches made a fight, and, retreating, again divided into five bands. The pursuers did the same. In the course of a few hours the Apaches all met on the edge of a precipice and annihilated each band of pursuers as it arrived. A Mexican General who has fought Indians for many years says 500 Apaches can hold their country against 5,000 troops, and have a good time in the bargain. They are well-mounted, active, dead shots, as brave as tigers, and, in the opinion of the correspondent, are able to hold their own against any comers by simple superiority

THE KNIGHTS OF PYTHIAS.

The Grand Lodge Convocation a Success Despite the Weather.

It Is Largely Attended, and the Grand Parade in the Mud Was Altogether Satisfactory.

CINCINNATI, May 22.—The members of Grand Lodge of Knight of Pythias, of Ohio, and visiting divisions crowd the principal streets of Cincinnati, notwithstanding the most unfavorable weather. The proceedings of the Grand Lodge began at 10 o'clock by an address of welcome by Mayor Thomas J. Stephens. Grand Chancellor J. F. Shumate presided and Vice Grand Chancellor J. C. Burns occupied the lower chair.

At 2 p. m. to-day the following visiting divisions formed in line of procession: Delaware, Humboldt, Mansfield, Marion, Kokomo, Toledo, Waverly, Ivanhoe, Summit, Douglass, Indianapolis, Garfield, Buckeye, Crystal, and others.

The following was the line of march and the organization of the bodies participating:

The detail of police formed on Walnut, right resting on Court, deploying northwardly.

Visiting Divisions of the Uniformed Rank from other jurisdictions formed on Court, right resting on Walnut, deploying eastwardly.

Grand Division of Ohio, General Henry Heinmiller commanding, formed on Court, right on Walnut, deploying westwardly.

First Regiment, Colonel Frederick Horman commanding, also formed on Court, right resting on Walnut, deploying westwardly.

Second Regiment, Colonel Peter Wiedner commanding, formed on Ninth, right resting on Walnut, deploying eastwardly.

The visiting drill corps and lodges from other jurisdictions formed on Ninth street, right on Walnut, deploying westwardly.

All visiting bodies from this jurisdiction formed on Eighth, right on Walnut, deploying eastwardly.

The lodges from this city formed on Eighth, right on Walnut, deploying westwardly.

Carriages formed on Seventh, right on Walnut, deploying eastwardly and westwardly.

The line of march was on Walnut, south to Fourth, east to Central avenue, north to Fifth, west to Race, north to Ninth, east to Vine, south to Fifth, east to Fountain Square, where they disbanded.

The procession made a fine appearance and the windows along the line were filled with the curious, who even found places on the roofs of houses. The line was nearly a mile long and occupied an hour in passing.

The mud was terrible, but everything passed off in a creditable manner, after which the Sir Knights and brothers sought their hotels and prepared for the grand affair to take place at Music Hall.

NEWS FROM CROOK.

He Is on Mexican Territory Against Mexican Remonstrance—A Fruitless Campaign Expected.

SAN FRANCISCO, CAL., May 22.—A Tombstone special, to the Evening Chronicle, says: "The following information is direct from headquarters of the army for operations against the Indians, dated Aposura, Sonora, May 18. Tuesday evening last, a courier arrived from Bavispe, with a communication from Lieutenant Parras, stating that General Crook reached there on the 5th with 200 Apache scouts, 100 American cavalry and a body of Mexican troops. Crook obtained guides from the military commander of the town to conduct his force to where Garcia had his last fight. The next day he departed for the Sierra Madre via Guacharia. The command is accompanied by forty pack mules, laden with provisions sufficient to last a long period. The main body of Crook's force, now numbering five hundred, camped at Alamohueco, twenty leagues from Janos. Had Lieutenant Parras consulted with Hedy before giving Crook guides, none would have been furnished, on the ground that Crook's entry was in violation of the treaty. Crook made all his preparations deliberately and has the sympathy of the Mexican population.

By a return courier Colonel Bandata, the new commanding officer, wrote General Crook, remonstrating in courteous but decided language that his action was an infraction of the treaty. Neither Bandata or Garcia, who was lately in command, have received instructions as to what General Crook, by the consent of their Government, would be permitted to do. Bandata says he will oblige all the American military force to adhere to the articles of the treaty.

When Bandata received the news of Crook's arrival at Bavispe, he took immediate guard against the Indians making another raid, if driven out of the mountains by General Crook. Many familiar with the Apaches state that General Crook will not be able to find the Indians if they learn of his approach. They will scatter into small bands and hide in impenetrable fastnesses. Others as confidently state that Crook will not be able to bring them to a fight, because the Indians have exhausted nearly all their ammunition in the Garcia fight.

BARNUM'S SERIOUS LOSS

Jumbo's Hasty Retreat From Porkopolis.

A Disappointed Crowd—Rain, Mud and Profanity—Barnum's Loss $40,000.

CINCINNATI, O., May 22.—The Barnum Circus seems this year to have been singled out as a victim to the weather's vengeance. At Wheeling, W. Va., a week ago, a severe wind-storm prostrated the tents and obliged a discontinuance of the performance, and in this city even a much more serious calamity has overtaken the great show. The stroke of business which succeeded in depriving even Cincinnati's home institution, the Robinson show, from exhibiting in its native city by leasing for the entire season the only available grounds in the city, which was done early in the season by Barnum's agent, at a large expense, only seems to make the present loss the more severe.

The show was to open its canvas doors on Monday afternoon. Beginning Saturday night a heavy rain-storm set in, which has continued almost incessantly ever since. The great tents were erected, however, in spite of the storm, and every effort has been made to get the grounds in shape to enable the performance to be given. An idea of the condition of the grounds can not be given in cold ink. The mud and slush covered not only the grounds proper but every avenue of entrance to the depth of six inches. The heavy wagons stood nearly hub deep in the mire, and the great Jumbo's height was reduced at least a foot by his sinking in the mud at every step. The brute's intelligence was manifested by his attempts to find hard ground upon which to stand, but finally he seemed to give up the attempt, and settled into mud and dependency. Transfer wagons were hired by the score to haul saw-dust, gravel and cinders to cover the mud, and several thousands of dollars were expended for this object. The elephants were made to help in this effort, and when a load of gravel would sink hub deep into the soft earth a pair of elephants would place their heads against the tail-boards and push the load out of the net without ceremony. But this work finally had to be abandoned, as it was impossible to secure enough dry material to cover a fraction of the grounds, and this morning the announcement was made that no exhibitions would be attempted.

The tents are down and are being packed away; Jumbo has pulled himself out of the mud, the disgusted showmen are breathing profanity at every breath, and the managers are figuring the losses. The city is filled with an immense crowd of people, and much disappointment prevails. The loss—expenses and money which would have been taken had the performances been given—is at least $40,000.

UNHEALTHY PARIS.

The Bad Sanitary Condition of the Center of Fashion.

PARIS, May 22.—It will surprise people in America to learn that in one important respect the municipal government of Paris has long been lamentably inefficient. The sewers of the French capital have been famous from time immemorial, and yet now, it seems, they are denounced by sanitary authorities as utterly unsuited for the work to be performed. The streets of Paris may be beautifully clean, but disregard of precautions to preserve the public health has kept the death rate of the city much above that of London, for instance, and has given free play to the diseases which are preventable by proper hygienic arrangements.

Paris has recently suffered from a severe epidemic of typhoid fever, and zymotic diseases generally have for several years prevailed there to a marked extent. From 1869 to 1874 the proportion per 100,000 inhabitants who died from typhoid fever, diphtheria, small-pox, measles, and scarlet fever was 150, a high rate. And this figure has steadily increased since. During the years from 1879 to 1881 it was more than doubled, the proportion being 334. Last year over 3,000 persons died from typhoid fever, and in 1880 and 1881 there were more than 2,000 deaths each year from the same disease.

The great cause of the trouble is the sewerage. The system of drainage is described as barbaric, and, in spite of the spread of knowledge in that direction within recent years, there is the grossest ignorance as to traps, ventilating and other methods of preventing the escape of foul gases.

It seems that though the Paris sewers are vast in size, they have not a sufficient fall; that the water supply is inadequate; and that the solid deposits are so numerous that a force of eight hundred men has to be employed to push the matter along. And yet those sewers receive only a part of the drainage of the houses. There are in Paris 80,000 cesspools, of which only 60,000 are emptied in the course of the year.

In fine, the drainage system of Paris is far behind the age, and a disgrace to a capital which aspires to lead the world in civilization. Nor have the citizens yet learned how to protect their houses from the ingress of sewer gas, though here in New York the question has become one of the most important with every household, so that oftentimes people are almost monomaniacs on the subject, and many inventions to accomplish the desired end are made every year.

The evils caused by its bad drainage are so serious that at last a special Technical Commission has been appointed to report on possible sanitary improvements for Paris. This Commission has among its members the engineer-in-chief of the Paris sewers, eminent physicians most versed in sanitary matters, and celebrated chemists. On the 2d of this month they visited London to inspect the metropolitan sewers and get hints as to a drainage system to be recommended for the French capital.

But the measures they must advise will involve a great outlay, which will provoke much discussion, and probably excite no little opposition. Yet Paris can not afford to have a reputation for unhealthfulness, and that it is now getting.

FIGHTING OUTLAWS.

To Capture a Young Train Wrecker.

READING, May 22.—Early Sunday morning special officers Hershen and Boone, of the Philadelphia & Reading railroad, brought to this city a boy whom they had captured on Stone Hill, Lancaster county, after a battle with outlaws, on the charge of placing the heavy plank on the track of the Reading & Columbia railroad on Wednesday, which wrecked a freight engine and some twenty cars, and caused the death of George M. Hain, Master Mechanic of the road. Stone Hill is a branch of the Welch Mountains, which have long been known as the rendezvous of the notorious Buzzard brothers and other fugitives from justice. The policemen having obtained trustworthy information as to the person who committed the crime, proceeded into the mountain fastness, well armed. The object of their search was a boy named Jacob Ganaway, aged fourteen, though large for his age. They were intercepted at the foot of the mountain by several hard-looking men, who demanded their business and said that the best thing they could do would be to leave at once. They kept on advancing, however, and were met with a shower of stones, and several savage dogs were set upon them. The outlaws then retreated with the policemen closely following them. Further up the hill they came upon the cabin where the boy has kept. He was hurried off by some of the outlaws, while the remainder tried to intercept the policemen. By a flank movement, however, they came upon the boy and the men who had him in charge, and by presenting pistols forced the outlaws to hand the boy over to them.

The youth was brought to this city, and in the morning will be taken to Lancaster. It is said that he was seen on the bridge overlooking the scene of the accident when the engine plunged off the track. He then ran off as fast as his legs could carry him, but was met by a farmer half a mile away, to whom he told a very crooked story. Mr. Hain, the victim of the wreck, was pinned to the earth by the engine and slowly roasted to death. He was buried here yesterday.

TRADE AND TRADERS.

Wall Street's Daily Fight—The Bears Secure a Victory—All the Capital Secured for the Northern Pacific—General Market Reports.

NEW YORK, May 22.—The discouraging financial situation in London and the absence of support to some stocks were among the causes of depression here yesterday. The total sales were nearly 400,000. The feature of the day was the general selling, which embraced nearly every stock on the list. While there was much disposed of for short account, it was apparent also that there was considerable liquidation by investors. Bears were hammering Canada Southern, which led the Vanderbilts in the downward movement. Michigan Central met with about the same treatment and broke with Canada Southern. New York Central was inclined to be steady, but on heavy selling by some parties it succumbed to the general weakness. Considerable trading in Lake Shore. Gould sustained his South-westerns, including Wabash. Consols were only one-eighth lower in London yesterday, which does not indicate any unusual disturbance there.

President Villard says the capital necessary to finish the Northern Pacific to the connection with the Central Pacific has been assured. President Stanford, of the Central Pacific, says: "We sell our stock occasionally, but never otherwise than in large blocks. We sell only when we want money for building purposes. We have not sold any since June last. I don't know of any railroad which stands upon a sounder financial basis or has bright prospects."

A firm dealing in Mexican and English securities has failed, but the largest estimate of its liabilities was £100,000. This failure has connection with American interest and was probably the result of the recent fall in Mexicans, which previously advanced on reports of settlement with the Mexican Government, which reports turned out untrue. The decline in American securities was simply such as would naturally follow the depression which existed in the market last Saturday.

The crops in Nebraska are reported in an excellent condition. The increased acreage of corn is immense.

ANOTHER LOVER'S EXIT.

A Girl Makes an End of Her Disappointment With Laudanum.

CHEYENNE, W. T., May 22.—In February last a girl arrived in Cheyenne from Denver and located herself in a house on the corner of Nineteenth and Thomas streets. She gave her name as Lillie Thorpe, but she soon assumed that of Lillie Talbot. She had formed the acquaintance of a young man—a "news agent" on the Union Pacific—which acquaintance soon developed into an ardent attachment. A few days ago the house in question was abandoned by its inmates only to take up quarters in a more spacious building erected for the purpose on West Eighteenth street.

Yesterday afternoon, about 4 o'clock, the lovers had an interview, which resulted unpleasantly, as he left the house in anger. The girl, after giving way to extravagant grief for some time, at last left the house, declaring she would find him. She came back in an hour and went direct to her room, which was shared at the time by a female companion. After some conversation, during which the girl said that if her lover did not return she would "never enter the parlor again," her companion went to lunch. She was absent about twenty minutes, and when she returned she observed something in the girl's troubled face that awakened suspicion. She said, "Lillie, you've been taking something," and immediately started for the door to call assistance. But the desperate girl caught her around the waist and cried, "You shall not go; let me die; don't send for anybody." The struggle continued for several minutes, until the girl, under the influence of the deadly drug she had swallowed, relaxed her hold, and her companion escaped. Assistance was summoned and soon Drs. Barkwell and Wyman were upon the spot. The girl lay in a lethargic stupor, occasionally moaning, while upon the bureau stood a two-ounce bottle labeled laudanum, which told the tale. Her lover was telephoned for and arrived in a few minutes, only to find his protestations of sorrow and endearment unavailing to bring her back to life. The physicians did all in their power to counteract the effects of the drug, but she died.

The poor, unfortunate has quite a history, having for several years traveled over Europe in the company of an Englishman of high rank. Coming to this country, she drifted west and finally to this place, where she has met her sad fate.

Her mother, Mrs. Kate Sanders, who lives at Wenona, Wis., has been telegraphed.

A SAD MARRIAGE.

Twain Made One and Then a Long Farewell.

CLEVELAND, May 22.—For years, Miss Annie Renachere has been one of the leading belles of Cleveland. Mr. Charles W. Seymour is a well-known society man and son of wealthy parents. Miss Renachere and Mr. Seymour became engaged about a year ago, and it was expected that they would be married this spring. About six months ago, however, Miss Renachere was stricken down with a complication of diseases, which proved to be beyond the reach of the best medical skill. During the past few weeks, it has been merely a question of time when her death would occur. As the time which had been fixed for the marriage approached she grew weaker and weaker, but it was determined that nothing should be allowed to interfere with the performance of the marriage ceremony. Thursday was the day fixed for the wedding, and the bride, pale and wan from her long sickness, was propped up with pillows on her death-bed while the marriage ceremony was performed. Only a few of the nearest and dearest friends of the contracting parties were present. The bride answered the questions of the clergyman in faint whispers. Tears stood in the eyes of all present, and the groom was completely heart-broken. Sunday afternoon at 2½ o'clock all that was mortal of the bride was borne from the residence of her parents, No. 10 Bridge street. She was twenty-four years of age.

A New Menagerie Attraction.

NEW YORK, May 22.—Five sea elephants have arrived at Jersey City from San Francisco, over the Erie railway, and are waltzing around the stable of Mr. Henry Reiche, their owner, at Hudson and Tenth streets, Hoboken. They were shipped from San Francisco by express, and stood the journey remarkably well. Each was in a crate by himself, and none of them was fed or watered on the road. When turned out of their cages in Mr. Reiche's stable they first hitched their way to a hose through which water was flowing, and then, after affectionately rubbing noses, they went up an incline and tumbled into a large tank, from which half a dozen sea lions had been evicted to give the newcomers a bath. They subsequently came out of the tank and ate nearly a barrel of fresh fish. Two or three of them strolled out into the yard and lay around on the gravel. A dog in the yard went into his kennel and looked as if he would faint from sheer fright. The largest of the elephants is a male about ten feet long. The smallest is four or five feet long. They are about nine months old, and were caught on the Pacific Coast last fall, and have been on exhibition in San Francisco several weeks.

To correct any false impressions that may have been produced by the treacherous Democratic papers in and out of the State and their penny whistle satellites, as to the regularity of the nomination for Governor of Hon. J. Proctor Knott by the recent Democratic State Convention, we publish the statement of Hon. Isaac Caldwell, the chairman of the convention, in whose ability, honor and veracity every one will have confidence, and also that of the secretaries of the convention. In view of these statements every one will concur in the belief that Knott was fairly nominated—and that to pronounce Jones nominated under the violation of instructions by five votes from Owen county without the opportunity for correction would have been a monstrous fraud which might have resulted in the defeat of the party at the polls.

This principle was so plain that Nelson, the chief friend of Jones, moved the unanimous nomination of Knott,—and he and Bryan, who put Jones in nomination, were appointed on the committee to inform Knott of his unanimous nomination, which duty they performed—and Jones himself came out in a decided speech recognizing the nomination of Knott and refusing emphatically to be considered as in the slightest degree disaffected as to the nomination.

This ought to satisfy every fair man as to the regularity and validity of the nomination of Knott. And all who are true to the Democratic party, whether would be leaders or privates, will do what they can to secure his election, instead of ministering to the disaffection attempted to be produced by Republicans, and unreliable Democrats. On the contrary what a howl of indignation would have been justly raised if Jones had been pronounced nominated by five delegates from Owen county violating instructions in favor of Knott—when the delegation from that county were trying to correct the error.

The nomination of Knott has been officially promulgated, and all true Democrats are earnestly and enthusiastically supporting him.

TO THE PEOPLE OF KENTUCKY: I recently presided as Chairman of a Democratic State Convention in Louisville, Ky. This was a novel position for me and placed me in a relation to the Democratic party in the State which demands of me that the party which trusted me shall not suffer by credit or character in the State or county by any charges or insinuations of unfair practices in so much of the action of the Convention as concerns the part I bore in it. Referring to those charges and insinuations of unfair practices, I state these facts:

First.—The first delay of the summing up of the final ballot between Col. Jones and Mr. Knott for Governor was made by the friends of Col. Jones, who insisted on the right of a Mr. Kendall to cast three votes for the county of Elliott in favor of Col. Jones. This vote was challenged on the floor by the friends of Mr. Knott, and Mr. Kendall drew his credentials from his pocket, which was conclusive proof that the credentials had not been before the Committee on Credentials, and it was conceded by both parties that Mr. Kendall had not answered for Elliott county on the day preceding. The best I could do for Col. Jones on these facts was to refer the credentials to the committee, who reported in favor of Mr. Kendall's right to cast the vote, and I so ruled it, and the vote was cast for Colonel Jones.

Second.—Pending the contest over the Elliott county vote, Mr. Revell, chairman of the Owen county delegation, was clamoring and persisting in his right to change the vote of Owen county. I did not then know what change he wished to make, but told him repeatedly that his application could not be heard until the Elliott county vote was settled, for the plain reason that under the rule adopted on the first day of the convention, the ballot of any county could not be changed until the call of the counties was completed, and after that time the responsibility of the result of the ballot, and left his place and came immediately under the chairman's stand to urge his demand. I told him he should be fairly dealt by, and when the call was completed by deciding the Elliott county case, he should be heard.

Third.—When the Elliott county case had been disposed of and the vote cast for Col. Jones, I gave the floor to Mr. Revell, on his claim of right to change the vote of Owen county. This created such a fiery contest as the change of five votes from Jones to five votes for Knott on a very close ballot would naturally cause. A long time was consumed with from two to a dozen men speaking at the same time, the details of which are of worth repeating, when finally it was announced by the chairman of the Owen delegation and the fact echoed by several of the delegates from that county that the opposition had yielded, and by consent the three votes were to be cast solid for Knott, in obedience to the instructions of the primary meeting in Owen county. I inquired: "Is that agreed?" and several voices said yes, and Mr. Pettit, one of the Secretaries, announced, in a loud, clear voice, the vote of Owen county is changed from eight for Knott and five for Jones to thirteen for Knott, and no protest or denial was heard on the stand, and my friends standing and sitting near me congratulated me on escaping the responsibility of deciding a difficult question, and I appreciated the congratulations, for I did not feel very clear as to how to decide, and I was considering whether I would decide at all or refer the matter to a vote of the convention. But I pressed to a very decided conviction that Knott was fairly entitled to the vote.

Fourth.—Whilst the Owen county matter was yet under consideration there were clamorous demands from some of the districts in Louisville and elsewhere to change votes, which I refused to hear until the Owen county question was disposed of. Then began change upon change from Jones to Knott until Col. Jones recognized leaders on the floor withdrew him from the contest, and the Knott's nomination was, on motion, made unanimous by acclamation, and Mr. Bryan, and Mr. Nelson, Col. Jones' leaders, headed the committee that escorted Mr. Knott to the platform to respond to the calls for him, as the usage is.

Fifth.—There was never a time when I had the right to order the result of the ballot to be announced. I made no mistake and caused no delay on that point. The ballot was never completed or announced, but when the ballot, Colonel Jones was withdrawn by his leaders, and Mr. Knott was nominated, not by ballot, but by acclamation, in the absence of a competitor, and without a dissenting vote. I did not decide or rule on the Owen county vote, and in no way contributed to the nomination of Mr. Knott or the defeat of Col. Jones. ISAAC CALDWELL.

LOUISVILLE, May 18.—Hon. Isaac Caldwell: Referring to the charges of unfairness practiced in the Democratic Convention just adjourned in this city, and insisting that against us we feel that a statement from us, as Secretaries of that convention there on duty, is due. On the seventh and last ballot for Governor on yesterday, when the county of Elliott was called, a delegate claimed the right to cast its vote, which was challenged, when he presented a paper claiming it as authority for his action. Mr. Jones' friends pressed the right of the delegate to cast the vote, in the face of the fact that the county had not theretofore been cast by him. As chairman, you directed the county to be passed and referred the paper which had been sent to the Secretary to the Committee on Credentials. Col. Wall, the chairman of the committee, took charge of the paper and called the committee together to consider it, when the call proceeded. After the call had been made, and pending the report of the Committee on Credentials, Mr. Revell, the chairman of the Owen county delegation, had repeatedly demanded to be heard, and during the time to change the vote of the county from eight for Knott and five for Jones to thirteen for Knott. As chairman you told him that he should be heard when the question from Elliott had been seen. Whilst the Committee on Credentials were out, Mr. Revell came forward immediately in front of the chair, accompanied by several of his delegates, demanding to make the change, and other Owen delegates made earnest opposition thereto. In vain you tried to preserve order. Thus proceeding, Col. Wall reported from his committee the right of Elliott county to representation by the proxy, when you directed the three votes of Elliott to be recorded for Mr. Jones. On the demand of Mr. Revell, the proceedings of the Owen county convention were read, which showed that the county had instructed its delegates to vote first for Jones. Buckner and secondly, "solidly for J. Proctor Knott." The action in the Owen delegation at this time was fierce, and resulted in leave being granted for the withdrawal of the delegation for five minutes consultation. Upon their return it was announced by the chairman that the contest was settled and the vote was to be cast in accordance with the instructions, whereupon the thirteen votes of Owen were recorded for Knott with the assent of the whole delegation. Other changes were being made, when Mr. Nelson, of Campbell, withdrew his name for Col. Jones, seconded by Mr. Bryan, of Kenton, who moved to make the nomination of Mr. Knott unanimous. There was no time preceding the final action of Owen county at which you could have ordered the result of the ballot to be announced, except in violation of the rules and practice of the convention. In fact, the ballot was never completed nor ready for announcement, Mr. Knott's nomination being consummated as stated above.

The original tally sheet shows that the vote a-cast, before any change was made by Owen county, stood 373 3-5 for Jones, and 361 2-5 for Knott, and when Owen county's vote was finally recorded in accordance with the instructions of Owen county it stood 369 2-5 for Knott, and 368 3-5 for Jones. Other changes were made immediately and before time was given for a summing up, thereby giving Knott an increased majority. Very truly, etc., THOS. S. PETTIT, J. D. POWERS.

And now those worthy Magistrates,
All during Denny's reign,
Every time they hold a court
Will want to go again.

THE case of Craft has been argued in the Court of Appeals, and a decision is looked for before Friday, the time fixed for the infliction of the death penalty.

DAN. JOHNSON, colored, and Charles Coons, colored, were convicted of a breach

Maysville District Conference.

Your correspondent was on hand at the opening Tuesday, of the Maysville District Conference, M. E. Church, South, at Hebron, near Fern Leaf. The opening sermon was preached at 11 a. m. by Rev.
Wm. Shorsmith. Mr. Shorsmith delivered an earnest, practical discourse, founded on Galatians 5, 1. The conference organized at 2 p. m., by electing
Rev. D. B. Cooper, President, and Rev.
C. J. Nugent, Secretary. After completion of the roll, the call of the same showed a fair number in attendance, notwithstanding the presence of winter in the lap of spring. The hours for business were fixed as follows: From 9 to 11 a. m., and from 2 to 4 p. m. The following committees were appointed:

ON SPIRITUAL STATE OF THE CHURCH.—
W. W. Spates and W. D. Power, clerical; Chas.
Sute, and W. H. Murphy, lay.
ON SUNDAY SCHOOLS.—W. W. Chamberlain,
Wm. Shorsmith, clerical; Frank Savage, Luther Weir, lay.

and W. D. Power, P. C., Frank Savage and Joseph Kirk.

Some little amusement was created when the congregation voted for evening preaching against the decision of the committee on public worship. The heartiness of the vote showed that the congregation were not so fearful of winter and the rain.

Your correspondent was met at Fern Leaf with a carriage and driven behind a spirited span of bays to the beautiful residence of Mrs. Melvina Sallee, where he is now delightfully encamped. Mrs.
Sallee and her lovely daughter, Miss Bur-

Kentucky style, and happy is the stranger whom fortune leads to their hospitable home.

Mr. S. B. OLDHAM has a new gas burner which makes a wonderful saving in gas.
It gives a broad, clear flame and consumes less gas than any other burner in use, and can be regulated to burn low or fixtures. Give them a trial. m16dlw

BALDNESS may be avoided by the use of Hall's Hair Renewer, which prevents the falling out of the hair, and stimu-

Windhorst & Blum,

AN OLD SUPERSTITION.

Turned Out of a Negro Congregation on a Charge of Using Love Powders.

SAYANNAH, Ga., May 22.—A case illustrating the tenacity with which colored people cling to superstition has just developed in Tattall county. Henry Edwards, a young colored man of that county, who is well thought of by his white neighbors, became enamored of a colored girl across the line in Liberty county. The girl came to this city on a visit, and while here received a letter from her Tattall lover, full of devoted sentiments. To make his letter more acceptable the swain had perfumed it. As soon as the odor reached the nostrils of the girl she conceived the idea that it was love powder. She returned home, narrated the event to her father, who grew indignant and brought the matter up in church. The case was on trial Saturday, and the young man was required to acknowledge his sin and repentance, when his church membership would be restored to him. This he refused to do, stating that he knew nothing about witchcraft, whereupon the girl's father pulled off his coat and was about to chastise the offender when he was restrained. He has $100 with which he has retained a lawyer to prosecute the case in the courts.

CINCINNATI JOURNALISM

A New Daily Paper—It Will Begin Life About June 1—Its Politics a Thing of Mystery.

CINCINNATI, May 22.—Beginning June 1, the Cincinnati Ledger will be issued. It will be a two-cent afternoon daily, and will be issued in two editions, one at noon and one at 5 p. m. As to who will be its editor, and in whose political interest the paper will be published, if in anybody's, are matters which have not developed. There may be a hitch that will prevent its publication at the date given, but that it will be launched shortly is a fact which may be relied on. One thing is certain, the paper will not be connected in any way with any other paper in the city.

RAUM'S SUCCESSOR.

Walter Evans, of Louisville, Commissioner of Internal Revenue.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., May 22.—The appointment of Walter Evans, of Kentucky, to the vacancy in the office of Commissioner of Internal Revenue, caused by the resignation of Green B. Raum, gives great satisfaction to the Republicans of Kentucky. He has figured prominently in Kentucky politics, and led the forlorn hope, as candidate for Governor against Blackburn in 1879. He is recognized as an upright and efficient man. The Democrats here say that it is Mr. Arthur's first move toward a nomination for President, as this appointment secures the Kentucky delegation in the convention.
